

Name: Prof. Gerardo M Saucedo Ramirez

Position: Principal Lecturer

University: De Montfort University, England

Class: 3D Animation and Multimedia

Visiting Duration: January-February 2013

Profile:

Prof. Gerardo M Saucedo Ramirez is part-time lecturer at De Montfort University. He've started working on a PhD research "A Methodology for Creating 3D Characters for Virtual Reconstructions: Virtual Romans 210 AD" His research is funded by CONACYT Mexico and It takes place on De Montfort University Leicester on the department of Art and Design and The Institute Of Creative Technologies. Actually His research focuses on populating a Virtual Reconstruction of Roman Leicester 210 AD by creating believable historical characters and as accurate as possible in terms of their appearance and behaviour, until January this year the first part of this research demanded me to learn as much as possible of how the 3rd. century Roman Britons lived.

